

Down by the Markes

Down by the Markes tells the story of Mikes early career as an Apprentice in the Merchant Navy. Mikes first voyage would have put any sane young teenager with any sense of self-preservation off following in their fathers footsteps. The hectic year before signing indentures to become an apprentice was very eventful. The work all those years ago seemed mundane, but today most people would be unable to do many of the tasks. Political correctness and health & safety concerns were both in the future.
