

Pop Cultures War on the American Family

We must do something to end the sleaze and dumbing-down of our culture. We must protect our children from all the garbage spewing out of Hollywood, TV, and from the violent video games-such as Pokemon. Christians, and all persons of good will (from all faiths) must join together in this crucial struggle against the drug-sex-violence culture that is enveloping us. The question is: What kind of society will we pass on to our children. One of tasteless vulgarity and scatological humor, or one that reflects the highest form of our Judeo-Christian heritage? The vulgarity and violence will not end until be begin to do something about it. We pray that this book will encourage its readers to help combat the Culture of Death by helping to build a Civilization of Love.
